

EVOLIS is awarded the ISO 9001 certification: quality remains a top priority

Angers, France, October 2012. Evolis, the European leader in solutions for plastic card personalization, announces that its headquarters and production facilities based in Beaucouzé, France, have been ISO 9001-certified.

Over the years, the Evolis card personalization solutions have been known and valued for their top reliability and unquestionable quality. The recently earned International Organization for Standardization (ISO) 9001 Certification rewards and strengthens even further Evolis's quality-oriented approach, from R&D to product manufacturing, and to the marketing of Evolis card printers.

« Earning this coveted certification clearly substantiates our commitment to continuously improve our performance and processes and better support requirements from our customers, as well as comply with market-specific regulations », explains Loïc Daraize, Quality Manager at Evolis.
